

OPEN DAY 2016

An Open Day is organized yearly by the College of Economics, Management and Information Systems (CEMIS) during the Cultural week season activities. The programs are planned to accommodate various activities to enhance the skills and knowledge of the students. The main objective of this event is to enrich students with more knowledge and skills. This will provide them an opportunity to gain the experience by participating in competitions and presentations to be able to exhibit their hidden talents. During this day, various guest lectures will be conducted involving the Foundation students to graduating students of our College.

An Academic Quiz competition on the topic “Know your Subjects” will be conducted for the students. In addition to this quiz, the Mock Interview session also organized for the benefit of the graduating students. The purpose of this event is to give the graduating students an opportunity to attend competitive interviews that will demonstrate proper interview skills. There will be some sessions where invited speakers from known organizations talk about Employability skills, Entrepreneurship, and our students from entrepreneurship course will present their best business plans, which are aimed at motivating students to start their own business after graduation. The last session will be handled by IS group students to entertain the audience by demonstrating live events. Finally the winners of the competitions will be awarded with Certificates, Trophies and gifts.
