DFL Research Seminars Series 1

Dr Mohammad Forouzani:

An Illustrative Dictionary of Semantics

The 28th of August 2019, Dr Mohammad Forouzani, DFL Assistant Professor in English, delivered a research seminar about the dictionary he recently published in Book Venture Publishing:

An Illustrative Dictionary of Semantics (ILLUDS)

THE PROJECT

Dr Mohammad launched the seminars series which has the objective to help DFL faculty to be more focus on research and to accompany them in the process of academic publication.

Introduced by the College Assistant Dean for Graduate Studies and Research, Dr Guillaume Thouroude, the first seminar of the series attracted more than a quarter of the DFL faculty.

THE SEMINAR

The presentation delivered by Dr Mohammad was both interesting and engaging. The audience appreciated it a lot and asked a good number of questions.

This event was an ideal occasion to deepen the department's knowledge about semantics and linguistics at large, and to appreciate what it is like to design a dictionary. Dictionaries are usually extensively consulted and used in libraries by students, teachers and researchers, but rare are the people who actually created one.

The ILLUDS happens to be the first dictionary of the kind, and it is an asset for the University of Nizwa that it was published by one of its faculty.
